Things Political.

Ald. Cullen will be a candidate for re-election.

Chas. Kinkil has his eye on a seat in the next council from the first ward.

Candidates for aldermanic honors are a little slow about announcing themselves.

Dr. Groves is spoken of as a possible candidate for mayor, but he is as yet silent on the subject.

Treasurer Demmes will probably have no opposition for re-election. He has made a good official.

Peter Walters has been prevailed upon by his friends to be a candidate for re-election as alderman at large.

Bro. Stivers is fairly in the field for mayor, and he will undoubtedly surprise many of the "unwashed" when the vote is counted.

In the second ward J. J. Howe and N. W. Wheatley are candidates for re-election as aldermen and it is rumored that David Slipp is also a candidate.

M. Murphy is a candidate for re-election as city clerk at the hands of the next council. He has made an excellent official and will undoubtedly be retained.

H. C. Stivers has commenced the erection of a new dwelling. It is quite likely that Bro. Stivers thinks the chief magistrate of a city like Brainerd should occupy a residence of stately proportions, and has taken time by the fore-lock.

Heavy pressure has been brought to bear upon Dr. J. L. Camp during the past week to induce him to make the race for mayor, but so far without success. The Doctor has many friends in the city who would like to see him in the field.

J. H. Koop is canvassing the city in his own interest. Mr. Koop says he will not withdraw from the race for mayor, as his friends have urged him to come out and he proposes to do his level best in securing the election. Mr. Koop's long residence and business connections have made him widely acquainted, and he figures on a good majority over any competitor.

It is said that Senator Washburn is highly pleased over the majority report of the tariff committee.

"Is a city office a private snap or a public trust," has been turned over to this office to solve. We leave it to the next administration.

HENRY VILLARD has been injecting the elixir of life into St. Paul and Minneapolis business circles during the past week. Brainerd is patiently awaiting her dose.

While there are numerous aspirants for the position of mayor there is as yet only one candidate for city treasurer. The salary of the former is "glory" while the latter is a lucrative position as far as the work is concerned.

EUGENE M. WILSON, the late democratic candidate for governor of Minnesota, died at Nassau, on the 10th inst., of malarial fever. Mr. Wilson was a man of great ability, and foresight, and his death is a severe blow to the democracy.

The personal popularity of the late Samuel J. Randall, together with his protective tariff views, gained for him a seat in congress from a republican district. There were few men like Mr. Randall, and it is quite probable that his successor will be a republican.

At Minneapolis the city clerk and two aldermen have been indicted by the grand jury as "boodlers," and sensational developments are looked for. Brainerd aspirants to city positions are warned in advance that the risk a man runs is scarcely worth the salary attached.

Starved to Death.

GRACEVILLE, April 17.—A. Dewey, formerly extensively engaged in the newspaper business, notably at Brainerd and Duluth, died from dyspepsia. With the exception of the skin he was a skeleton, having starved to death.

Stole Cora's Diamonds.

Charles Shaw, who was indicted for grand larceny at St. Paul, by the United States grand jury, he having stolen the diamond earrings of the famous Cora Belle Chaska, pleaded guilty and was sent to the penitentiary for one year. Shaw was from Aurora, Ill., and left that place six weeks ago to visit Mrs. Chaska on the Sioux reservation. He skipped out with her diamonds after a stay of several weeks.

Senator Washburn's Views.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—[Special.]—Senator Washburn said to a press representative last evening that the tariff bill reported by Maj. McKinley this afternoon is in the line of policy that he has favored, and worked for, in season and out of season, with members and senators since he took his seat in the senate, and long before. He looks upon the step towards free sugar as the most important that could have been taken by the republicans, because had it not been taken our readers would be justly accused of catering to the interests of a few manufacturers as against the interests of thousands of farmers in different sections of the country, who if the measure becomes a law can turn their attention to what may under the 2 per cent. pound bounty become one of the most profitable industries extant. "The sugar beet," he says, "can be raised in almost any of the Western and Northwestern states, and through a careful study of the subject gained by observations in Bohemia and Austria, I am satisfied that the climate and soil of Minnesota are better adapted to their profitable production than those of any other state in the Union. I am sending out seed, through the agricultural department, to over 100 farmers in that state for experimental purposes with a view of ascertaining what localities are best adapted to its cultivation."

THE OLD BEAU.

How cracked and poor his laughing rings! How dulled his eye, once flashing warm! But still a courtier's nature he retains, About his bent and withered form.

To-night, where mirth with merriment dwells, His wrinkled cheek, his locks of snow, Gleam near the graces of the belles He smiled on forty years ago.

We watch him here, and half believe Our gaze may witness, while he speaks, Death, like a footman, touch his sleeve And tell him that the carriage waits!

—EDWARD F. WATKINS.

THE FIEND IN PURSUIT.

It is high noon of an August day. Hot! View! but how the summer sun beats down on the great prairie—scorching, withering, shriveling, heating the blood of man and animal until it seems to boil! We have turned aside into the grove of cottonwoods as much for shelter as to prepare and eat the noonday meal. There are one—three—five—seven—ten—dozens, covering a space of a quarter of an acre. Here a spring bubbles up from a strata of sand and gravel, and so many thousands of animals have come here to slake their thirst that the earth is bare of grass for the space of two acres. Not exactly bare, but cropped off so short and trampled down so often that it is only a thin carpet to cover the soil. The paths radiating away through the dry and waving grass are like the spokes of wheels.

Ah! but water touches the spot on a day like this when one has been in the saddle since sunrise! Each man of us says to himself, "I wish I could see a horse say so in his look of relief after thirst has been quenched. Whisky! Brandy! Champagne! They would be found to flush a feeling of disgust."

There are no sign boards on the prairie. Turn which way you will and the horizon descends to the waving grass. We are drifting on a vast inland sea—a sea of earth and grass, and dying flowers—both grass and flowers yielding up their lives to the long weeks of dry, hot weather. One may have company and comfort, and he may be certain that if he holds true to the compass he will come out safely, but yet the feeling steals over him at intervals that he is lost—driven here and there by the wind, and wave, and current.

"What all this horse?"

"We all spring up to see one of the saddlehorses—a veteran in years and experience—standing by his head in the dust and pointed due west. He looks steadily as if his eyes had lost their power to turn, his nostrils quiver and dilate with excitement. We watch him for a full minute. He is the first to exhibit alarm but now one horse after another throws up his head and looks to the west.

"It's fire, boys!"

Had it been night we should have seen the reflection. Had there been a strong wind the odor would have come to us sooner. There was only a gentle breeze—lingering, dying under the fierce sun, but resurrected and given a new lease of life at intervals by the rolling toward us, fanned and driven by a breeze of its own creation, but coming slowly and grandly. It takes me only two or three minutes to climb to the top of one of the trees, and from my elevated position I can get a grand view of the wave of fire which is driving before it everything that lives and can move.

We work fast. Blankets are wet at the spring and hung up between the trees to make a bulwark against sparks and smoke, the horses doubly secured, camp equipment oiled up and covered, and before we are through we have visions of ten or twelve buffaloes coming thundering up, pass the grove, halt and return to its shelter, crowding as close to the horses as they can get and showing no fear at our presence. Next come deer, antelope, and their bright eyes bulging out with fear and their nostrils blowing out the heavy odor with short snorts. One rubs against me and licks my hand as I rub his nose.

Yelp! Here are a half a dozen wolves, who crowd among the buffaloes and tremble with terror, and a score of serpents race over the open ground to seek the wet ditch which carries off the water from the spring. Last to come, and only one mile ahead of the wave which is licking up everything in its path, is a Mustang—a single animal—which has somehow been separated from the herd, and comes from the north, racing to reach the grove before the fire shall cut him off, and he runs for his life. With ears laid back, nose pointing, and his eyes fixed on the pool, he paces it that of a thunderbolt. He leaps square over one pile of camp outfit and goes ten rods beyond before he can check himself. Then he comes trotting back, and crowds between two of our horses with a heavy thud.

There is a roar like Niagara. The smoke drives over us in a pall like midnight. The air seems to be one sheet of flame. The wave has swept up to the grove, and now it is dividing to pass us by. We are in an oven. The horses snort, and cough, and plunge—the wolves howl and moan as the heat and smoke come between them. Then the five Mustangs, then the rest come. The flame has passed and the smoke is driving away. In their path is a cool breeze, every whiff of which is a grand elixir.

In ten minutes the grove is so clear of smoke that we can see every foot of the earth again. A queer sight it is. It has been the haven of refuge for snakes, lizards, gophers, prairie dogs, rabbits, coyotes, wolves, antelopes, deer, buffaloes, horses, and men—emphatically, and hunger on the face of the horse that all might escape that which might escape the food in pursuit.

For half an hour nothing moves. Then the Mustangs, things up his head and blows the last of the smoke out of his nostrils, and starts off with a flourish of his heels. The buffaloes go next, the deer and antelope follow, and in five minutes we are left alone.

For fifty miles to the north, west and south there is nothing but blackness—a landscape of despair. Away to the east the wall of fire is still moving on and on, and the smoke, rolling over a land whose harvest is death and whose trail is

THE INDIAN WEST.

A Summary of the Important Events of the Week in the Northwestern States.

MINNESOTA.

While P. G. Anderson of Lake Ida, Douglas county, was driving home his team ran away and he was thrown out and instantly killed. J. H. B. Easton, a young man well known in the musical circle of Rochester, resided at a place in the foreground from a horse. He will probably recover.

During a storm lightning struck the barn of J. H. Harniman, Quincy, which was totally destroyed by fire. Loss, $2,000, no insurance.

Mrs. M. Pirvo, of Duluth, fell into a kettle of boiling pitch, which afterward caught fire, and before the flames could be extinguished she was burned to a crip.

The body found in Lake T'epin the other day has been identified as John Heatt, who disappeared from his home near Wacouta in December last.

J. Frank Colton, of Minneapolis, defendant in the famous Blaisdell-Colton forgery case, will appear again for trial on April 14, this time on a charge of forgery in the second degree.

The special election in the town of Jordan, Fillmore county, for the office of assessor, resulted in the defeat of the proposition by a majority of twenty-five votes.

A Little Falls store block, occupied by Booth & Co., as a clothing and furnishing store, was destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to be the result of a kitchen fire.

C. E. Wood, aged seventeen, met with a terrible accident at Hastings while cleaning his shotgun. He had removed the shot, but his mouth and face were lacerated by the musket and fracturing the lower jaw.

The president has remitted the term of imprisonment of Henry Caldwell, now in the Stillwater penitentiary, after June 1 next. Caldwell was a private in Company D, Twenty-fifth infantry, and was sent to prison on the findings of a court martial held Oct. 22, 1888.

Five thousand dollars have been subscribed by the farmers and citizens in the vicinity of Anoka, for the enclosure and the site for a building located on a plot of ground donated by T. F. Pratt, near the railroad station. Ground will be broken at once, and it is intended to have the creamery ready for operation by June.

At a dance held in G. A. hall at Tracy a row took place between Jim Smith, a lively man, and George Heywood, a brainy one, both residents of that place. Smith left the hall and was followed by Heywood, who attacked him, stabbing him four times in the back with a pocket knife. Heywood is not serious. Heywood was arrested at Sleepy Eye.

August Anderson was found dead at Hastings, in the vicinity of the city. It is a probable case of suicide. He was a shoemaker by trade and ran a repairing shop. He was married, and leaves a widow and two children. He has resided in Hastings for the past eight years, and was of a rather eccentric disposition. He has a brother living in Maiden Rock, Wis. He had been forty years in the city. He was about forty years of age.

An oil painting of Fort Ridgely as it appeared in 1862 when the Indians were making an attack upon it, has been presented to the adjutant-general's office at St. Paul by Capt. J. C. McGraw, of Crookston. It shows the Indians, about 2,000 in number, getting up out of the brush and attacking the fort. Capt. McGraw made a sketch of the fort and surroundings at the time, intending to have it painted.

NORTH DAKOTA.

A new steamboat has been purchased in the east by Blomquist parties and will ply between city and Fort Benton. The boat has been in the Ohio river service for a short time.

A pig and a dog engaged in a rough and tumble fight on the streets of Grand Forks the other day, which resulted in the canine getting decidedly the worst of the fight, chasing his opponent from the battlefield.

The J. E. Winship printing establishment of Grand Forks has been purchased by the Plaindealer company and will be consolidated with the Plaindealer, accepting the proprietorship of the consolidated job office.

Representative Hanson has introduced a bill providing for the establishment of a North Dakota, known as the Minot district. A similar bill has had a favorable report in the senate.

Alexander McKenzie has offered to furnish 5,000 bushels of seed wheat for Burleigh county at his own expense, to be furnished at 75 cents a bushel and at 6 per cent interest, with security, were needed for being drunk and disorderly.

Maurice O'Hair, now serving a life sentence in the Bismarck penitentiary for the murder of Peter Greer, at Hillsboro, in 1886, has been granted a full pardon by the state supreme court on the ground of illegality of the judge's instructions to the jury.

The examination of ex-postmaster Fulton of Cassioton, to determine the cause of the progress. Postoffice Inspector Watkins reports that the government had five specifications against Fulton, embracing forty-five peculation, covering the entire term of his office.

The chapel on wheels of the North Dakota bishops is having constructed is dubbed the "Gospel car." It is described as a combination of a church and a circus, and is the property of the bishop.

The former is equipped with the baptismal font and all the conveniences for administering confirmation and the sacred rites. The train will be used in the district in the progress. Cruiser Pearce, of Brainerd, is here looking after the Northern Pacific's pine lands. He found a saw-mill in the middle of the prairie merrily sawing away on a lot of logs supplied by the thievish farmers, who seem intent upon getting even with the railroad company for the loss of the indemnity lands of the second belt.—Motley Register, Cor.

Mrs. F. F. Griffin, wife of the assistant superintendent of the Northern Pacific road, was found dead in bed this morning. She was sleeping with her mother, but it is not known when death occurred. Mr. Griffin, who was away at the time, has just moved here from St. Paul. The cause of her death was heart disease. The remains were taken to Denver for interment.—Fergus Falls Telegram.

The wife of Joseph McCabe, superintendent of the St. Paul division of the Northern Pacific railway, is afflicted with cancer of the stomach, and her life has been despaired of. The lady is about thirty-two years of age, and had always enjoyed excellent health until about five weeks ago. For a time there was a good deal of uncertainty as to the real nature of the trouble, but a number of the leading physicians of St. Paul and Minneapolis have agreed that the fatal cancer has taken hold, and that there is no hope of recovery.—Pioneer Press.

Henry Spalding, sheriff of Crow Wing county, was in the city yesterday to obtain a voucher for a bill presented by him to the state, amounting to $428.68. This amount is due him for expenses incurred in securing from the authorities of Montana, Charles Searles and William Paine, who were tried at Brainerd for robbing the Northern Pacific express office of $15,000, but were discharged. The bill was approved by the governor and the warrant issued by the state auditor.—Pioneer Press.

On Tuesday afternoon Cora Carey was again before the municipal court, this time charged with assault on the person of a lumberman, George Hunter. It seems that on Tuesday of last week Hunter came down from the woods, and after drinking and carousing all the afternoon and evening he made a circuit of the houses of ill-fame, at one of which he was knocked insensible, being badly bruised about the head and face. Hunter claims that this was done at Miss Carey's place by Miss Carey herself. This the woman denied and placed all the inmates of her house on the stand, who all swore that she was insensibly drunk during the entire night, and therefore physically unable to have done so. After hearing all the evidence the jury found her not guilty, and she was accordingly discharged.

The Best Yet.
The best comedy company that has ever visited Brainerd will be at the opera house Saturday evening, April 19th. The St. Louis Star says of them:

Laugh! Well, rather. They laughed till the tears rolled down their cheeks, and after saturating their handkerchiefs resorted to use up their programmes as tear wipes. Hoyt's "Tin Soldier" was responsible for it. The play opened at Pope's theatre yesterday afternoon to an audience that packed the theatre to the doors. Women stood in the aisles. The fun was so great and the laughter so loud that the yelling of the youngsters who visited the theatre was lost. "A Tin Soldier" is too well known to require any comment upon its plot. There is not so much of it that the man who studies it out once can not recollect it for a year or so. It is the fact that it is pretty hard to discover the plot, but get it and you can't well lose it. But the most noteworthy thing about the present "Tin Soldier" is the company. It is equal to any that ever produced it, at least its members get every bit as much fun out of the author's work, and that is all the public desires. There are more new songs and more entertaining specialties than ever. This is a fact. Paul Dresser surpassed expectations as the Plumber, and Louis Wesley was apt as Rats. St. George Hussey, as Violet, was excellent. Fannie Bloodgood's dancing was an attractive feature. "A Tin Soldier" in the hands of the present company, will not want for patronage.

For Treasurer.
I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of City Treasurer, and respectfully solicit the support of all voters.

Very Respectfully,
A. J. DEMETRIUS.

Mr. S. J. Hall left for his summer's work at Crookston Monday evening. Mr. Hudson, Mr. Barrett and others have gone to Cloquet.

Occasional.
Dogged by Detectives.

A young man recently committed suicide at Denver, Colo., leaving a note to the effect that he had been dogged by a pertinacious detective who prevented him from securing employment. The average detective at his best does not look prominently as an object of admiration. In such low, sinister work as this he sinks below the level of his own shady compatriots and becomes a menace to society and a well equipped nuisance.—Pioneer Press.

If there was some way by which these sneaking detectives, amateur and professional, could be brought to account for the trouble they cause innocent people it would be a blessing to humanity.

To-Morrow Evening.
One of Charley Hoyt's funniest pieces, "A Tin Soldier," is at Pope's theatre this week, and the business it is doing has caused Business Manager Hagan, of this house, to wear one of his broadest smiles. It opened to the largest house of the season Sunday matinee, 800 people being turned away, and since then crowded houses have prevailed. Although this year's company is a new one, and has only been on the road a month, it manages to extract more fun out of the piece than that of any previous year, and gives a thoroughly enjoyable performance. Louis Wesley's Rats is an excellent piece of character acting, as is also Paul Dresser's Plumber. The other characters are in competent hands, and the production could not be better.—St. Louis Sporting News.

At the opera house Saturday evening, April 19th.

Resolutions of Respect.

RESOLVED, That while we bow to the will of God, we cannot refrain from expressing our heartfelt sorrow for the loss of one whose true and noble character was worthy of the highest and noblest esteem.

RESOLVED, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his grief-stricken family in this their hour of dire affliction, and earnestly commend them for consolation to Him who takes away and who alone can lighten the burden that has so heavily oppressed them.

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be printed in the Brainerd papers and a copy presented to the family of our Brother, and that they be entered in the records of this Lodge and that the Charter of this Lodge be draped in mourning one month in respect for our Brother.

"The Man—Christ Jesus" will be the subject at the Methodist church on Sunday morning. "Pilate's Wife's Dream" will be the subject of the evening's discourse.
Engineer Geo. Bertram had the misfortune to drop a heavy bar of iron on his right foot on Monday, which broke his big toe and otherwise bruised and crushed his foot. As a consequence he has been confined to his home ever since.
The Catholic congregation presented Father Gleeson with a purse $38 after services last Sunday. J. J. Howe made the presentation speech, which was feelingly responded to by the gentleman. Father Gleeson has made many warm friends during his short stay in this city.
Rev. E. J. Lawlor left Thursday evening for Brainerd, where he will at once take charge of his new parish. Father Lawlor leaves behind him a host of friends among all classes with whom he has been in contact during the time he has been a resident of this city.—Crocketon Times.
Cruiser Pearce, of Brainerd, is here looking after the Northern Pacific's pine lands. He found a saw-mill in the middle of the prairie merrily sawing away on a lot of logs supplied by the thieving farmers, who seem intent upon getting even with the railroad company for the loss of the indemnity lands of the second belt.—Motley Register, Cor.
Mrs. F. F. Griffin, wife of the assistant superintendent of the Northern Pacific road, was found dead in bed this morning. She was sleeping with her mother, but it is not known when death occurred. Mr. Griffin, who was away at the time, has just moved here from St. Paul. The cause of her death was heart disease. The remains were taken to Denver for interment.—Fergus Falls Telegram.
The wife of Joseph McCabe, superintendent of the St. Paul division of the Northern Pacific railway, is afflicted with cancer of the stomach, and her life has been despaired of. The lady is about thirty-two years of age, and had always enjoyed excellent health until about five weeks ago. For a time there was a good deal of uncertainty as to the real nature of the trouble, but a number of the leading physicians of St. Paul and Minneapolis have agreed that the fatal cancer has taken hold, and that there is no hope of recovery.—Pioneer Press.
Horse Clipping.
Parties desiring their horses clipped can be accommodated by calling on John A. Lingman, corner of Kingwood and Fifth streets. 4w

The railroad employees will be paid to-morrow.
Charlie Hazen will start his sprinkling wagon next Monday.
D. S. Forgy has gone to Duluth with a view of locating there.
The registration boards in the different wards were in session on Tuesday.
H. S. Totton made a business trip to Grand Rapids and La Prairie this week.
Mrs. J. N. Nevers went to St. Paul this noon on a two weeks' visit with friends.
The sale of the Brainerd dam has again been postponed, this time until May 5th.
Kellehan & Frost have a fine pair of cub bears on exhibition in their window.
There is fish enough being shipped from Brainerd these days to supply nearly the entire state.
R. H. Capistrant, for some time a deputy in the register of deeds' office, has moved to Croqueton.
An eagle, captured in Crow Wing county, has been on exhibition at the Arlington during the week.
On Monday evening the N. P. R. R. Dancing Club gave their first ball and the management have endeavored to make arrangements for a very pleasant evening.
District court opens Monday afternoon at which time the calendar will be cleaned up. The jurors will be in attendance that were summoned for the regular term.
Judge Holland is still at the Hot Springs and will remain there until the middle of May. He is improving somewhat. Geo. LaBar, who went with him, returned on Friday last.
The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will give a tea on Tuesday afternoon, April 22, at the residence of Mrs. Merritt, No. 33, East Main Street. A cordial invitation is extended to all.
Hose Co. No. 1 elected the following officers on Monday evening: Foreman, Jas. Kellehan; First assistant, Thos. Wilson; Second assistant, Chas. Kinkade; Treasurer, Jno. Bubar; Secretary, T. J. Sanborn.
Alvah Dewey, formerly proprietor of the Daily News in this city, and who has been connected with the newspaper fraternity of this state for many years, died at Graceville on Tuesday. Mr. Dewey was a member of Wilsey Lodge of Odd Fellows of this city.
The Presto change says that Mr. T. J. Sharkey, travelling auditor for the Northern Pacific, has determined to commence at once the erection of a hotel in Presto, at the corner of Fourth street and First avenue. It will be a frame structure with Presto brick, will be 50x60 feet in size, and two stories. On the first floor will be the office, dining room and kitchen. Also a bank and two store rooms.
Henry Spalding, sheriff of Crow Wing county, was in the city yesterday to obtain a voucher for a bill presented by him to the state, amounting to $428.68. This amount is due him for expenses incurred in securing from the authorities of Montana, Charles Searles and William Paine, who were tried at Brainerd for robbing the Northern Pacific express office of $15,000, but were discharged. The bill was approved by the governor and the warrant issued by the state auditor.—Pioneer Press.
On Tuesday afternoon Cora Carey was again before the municipal court, this time charged with assault on the person of a lumberman, George Hunter. It seems that on Tuesday last week Hunter came down from the woods, and after drinking and carousing all the afternoon and evening he made a circuit of the houses of ill-fame, at one of which he was knocked, insensible, being badly bruised about the head and face. Hunter claims that this was done at Miss Carey's place by Miss Carey herself. This the woman denied and placed all the inmates of her house on the stand, who all swore that she was insensibly drunk during the entire night, and therefore physically unable to have done so. After hearing all the evidence the jury found her not guilty, and she was accordingly discharged.
The Best Yet.
The best comedy company that has ever visited Brainerd will be at the opera house Saturday evening, April 19th. The St. Louis Star says of them:
Laugh! Well, rather. They laughed till the tears rolled down their cheeks, and after saturating their handkerchiefs resorted to wipe up their programmes as tear wipes. Hoyt's "Tin Soldier" was responsible for it. The play opened at Pope's theatre yesterday afternoon to an audience that packed the theatre to the doors. Women stood in the aisles. The fun was so great and the laughter so loud that the yelling of the youngsters who visited the theatre was lost. "A Tin Soldier" is too well known to require any comment upon its plot. There is not so much of it that the man who studies it out once can not recollect it for a year or so. It is true that it is pretty hard to discover the plot, but get it and you can't well lose it. But the most noteworthy thing about the present "Tin Soldier" is the company. It is equal to any that ever produced it, at least its members got every bit as much fun out of the author's work, and that is all the public desires. There are more new songs and more entertaining specialties than ever. This is a fact. Paul Dresser surpassed expectations as the Plumber, and Louis Wesley was apt as Rats. St. George Hussey, as Violet, was excellent. Fannie Bloodgood's dancing was an attractive feature. "A Tin Soldier" in the hands of the present company, will not want for patronage.
For Treasurer.
I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of City Treasurer, and respectfully solicit the support of all voters.
Very Respectfully,
A. J. DEMEULES.

Jas. R. Smith spent Sunday in Minneapolis.

It is now claimed that the Weyerhaeuser syndicate will visit Brainerd next week, and look the ground over preparatory to commencing work.
Eames Bros. market had a narrow escape from destruction by fire on Monday. The timely arrival of the fire department saved the building.
The ball to be given Wednesday evening, April 23rd, by the fire department should be well attended and patronized by the people of this city.
Gull River News.
April sunshine, but not enough showers.
Mr. and Mrs. Pickett, of Michigan, are guests of Mrs. William Yates.
Mr. J. H. Brewer, who has been seriously ill with paralysis, is slowly improving.
Miss Flo. Brown left to-day for Montana, where she will spend the summer with her sister.
Mrs. John Munson gave a very enjoyable card party Saturday evening, and all the guests report a delightful time.
Mr. S. J. Hall left for his summer's work at Croqueton Monday evening.
Mr. Hudson, Mr. Barrett and others have gone to Croqueton.
OCCASIONAL.
Dugged by Detectives.
A young man recently committed suicide in Denver, Colo., leaving a note to the effect that he had been dogged by a pertinacious detective who prevented him from securing employment. The average detective at his best does not loom prominently as an object of admiration. In such low, sinister work as this he sinks below the level of his own, and his country and becomes a menace to society and a well equipped nuisance.
If there was some way by which these sneaking detectives, amateur and professional, could be brought to account for the trouble they cause innocent people it would be a blessing to humanity.
To-Morrow Evening.
One of Charley Hoyt's funniest pieces, "A Tin Soldier," is at Pope's theatre this week, and the business it is doing has caused Business Manager Hagen, of this house, to wear one of his broadest smiles. It opened to the largest house of the season Sunday matinee, 800 people being turned away, and since then crowded houses have prevailed. Although this year's company is a new one, they have only been on the road a month, it manages to extract more fun out of the piece than that of any previous year, and gives a thoroughly enjoyable performance. Louis Wesley's Rats is an excellent piece of character acting, as is also Paul Dresser's Plumber. The other characters are in competent hands, and the production could not be better.—St. Louis Sporting News.
At the opera house Saturday evening, April 19th.
Resolutions of Respect.
Resolutions of respect to our late Bro. Wm. R. Stewart, member of Pine City Lodge No. 81, B. of L. F.:
WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our beloved Brother Wm. R. Stewart, who was one of our best members, and
WHEREAS, By his death Pine City Lodge No. 81, B. of L. F., has lost a good and worthy member, and a true and generous friend, and his bereaved family a loving and devoted husband and father, therefore be it
RESOLVED, That while we bow to the will of God, we cannot refrain from expressing our heartfelt sorrow for the loss of one whose true and noble character was worthy of the highest and noblest esteem.
RESOLVED, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his grief-stricken family in this their hour of dire affliction, and earnestly commend them for consolation to Him who takes away and who alone can lighten the burden that so heavily oppressed them.
RESOLVED, That these resolutions be printed in the Brainerd papers and a copy presented to the family of our Brother, and that they be entered into the records of this Lodge and that the Charter of this Lodge be draped in mourning one month in respect for our Brother.

Walla Walla Country.
The Northern Pacific Railroad has just perfected an arrangement with the Hunt system of railroads in Oregon by which holders of 2nd class tickets for points beyond Hunts or Pasco Junction, can obtain round trip tickets at either of these points for Athens, (Centerville), Walla Walla, Pendleton, Wabburg or Dayton, (good for ten days and for stop-over at intermediate points in either direction) at excursion rates, thus giving the intending settlers an opportunity to prospect this country at trifling expense.

On Tuesday afternoon Cora Carey was again before the municipal court, this time charged with assault on the person of a lumberman, George

Hunter. It seems that on Tuesday of last week Hunter came down from the woods, and after drinking and carousing all the afternoon and evening he made a circuit of the houses of ill-fame, at one of which he was knocked insensible, being badly bruised about the head and face.

Hunter claims that this was done at

Miss Carey's place by Miss Carey herself. This the woman denied and placed all the inmates of her house on the stand, who all swore that she was insensibly drunk during the entire night, and therefore physically unable to have done so. After hearing all the evidence the jury found her not guilty, and she was accordingly discharged.

The Best Yet.

The best comedy company that has ever visited Brainerd will be at the opera house Saturday evening, April

19th. The St. Louis Star says of them:

Laugh! Well, rather. They laughed till the tears rolled down their cheeks, and after saturating their handkerchiefs resorted to use up their programmes as tear wipes. Hoyt's

"Tin Soldier" was responsible for it.

The play opened at Hoyt's theatre yesterday afternoon to an audience that packed the theatre to the doors.

Women stood in the aisles. The fun was so great and the laughter so loud that the yelling of the youngsters who visited the theatre was lost. "A Tin Soldier" is too well known to require any comment upon its plot.

There is not so much of it that the man who studies it out once can not recollect it for a year or so. It is true that it is a play hard to discover the plot, but get it and you can't well lose it. But the most noteworthy thing about the present "Tin Soldier" is the company. It is equal to any that ever produced it, at least its members get every bit as much fun out of the author's work, and that is all the public desires. There are more new songs and more entertaining specialties than ever. This is a fact.

Paul Dresser surpassed expectations

as the Plumber, and Louis Weesley as Violet, was excellent. Fannie

Bloodgood's dancing was an attractive feature. "A Tin Soldier" in the hands of the present company, will not want for patronage.

For Treasurer.
